

Listserv message for Consumer Bankruptcy Institute:

It gives me great pleasure to announce our new education and networking venture with the Institute of Continuing Legal Education: our first annual Consumer Bankruptcy Institute, scheduled April 19, 2010 at the Inn at St. John's in Plymouth. We've designed a national quality program for a Michigan venue. Please support your Consumer Bankruptcy Association in bringing top notch bankruptcy education to Michigan by signing up today! Consumer Bankruptcy Association members save $50 off the general registration fee.

Our program features two of the best presenters in bankruptcy education programming: Judge Keith M. Lundin, Middle District of Tennessee, and Chapter 13 Trustee, Henry E. Hildebrand, III of Nashville bringing their patented, high energy Chapter 13 case law update to the Inn at St. John's in Plymouth.

Plus, six of Michigan's own bankruptcy judges from both the eastern and western districts with timely tips, keen insight and proven practice advice.

An outstanding faculty of Michigan experts, trustees and practitioners give you multiple break out sessions for beginners and experienced pros from which to choose. Tailor the program to YOUR needs and interests.

Take your practice to the next level without the hassle of airports or the expense of out-of-town travel. Find out what all the excitement is about. Join your friends and colleagues in what should prove to be the education and networking event of the year!
