Amended Swaps (Amended and Restated Schedule to the 1992 ISDA Master Agreement)
(A&R)

Parties	The Service Corporations and the Swap Counterparties.
Purpose	To serve as a hedge and to fix the interest rate on the Floating-Rate COPs.
Part 5(iv) Swap Insurer Consent	Syncora must consent, in writing, to any modification, waiver, or amendment of the Swap Agreement or the Collateral Agreement.
Part 5(i) Designation of Early Termination Event	If a Termination Event or Event of Default occurs, neither the Service Corporations nor the Swap Counterparties can designate an Early Termination Event without Syncora's prior written consent.

Part 5(x) Representations and Agreements	Each party's representations and agreements in the Swaps are expressly made to and for the benefit of Syncora.
Part 5(xi) Third-Party Beneficiary	Syncora is an express third-party beneficiary of the Swaps with the power to enforce the terms of the agreement.
Part 5(xiii) Subrogation	Syncora is subrogated to the rights of the Swap Counterparties against the Service Corporations to the extent Syncora must make insurance payments.
Part 5(xiv) Designating an Early Termination Event	Syncora must consent in writing to a party's attempt to terminate the Swaps due to an Event of Default or Termination Event.
Part 5(xx) Optional Early Termination	Swap Counterparty may designate early termination date if it is not a sole defaulting party by providing five (5) business days' notice and setting an early termination date.

Forbearance Agreement (FA)

Parties	The City, the Service Corporations, UBS A.G., Merrill Lynch Capital Services.
Recitals	The Parties admit that Events of Default have occurred and are continuing under the Swaps.
Section 1.1 Forbearance	The Swap Counterparties agree to forbear from terminating the Swaps and instructing U.S. Bank, as Custodian, to cease making payments to the City from the General Receipts Subaccount. (This is contrary to the automatic cash-trapping provision of the Collateral Agreement (CA) §5.4(a).)
Section 1.2 Forbearance Period	The Forbearance Agreement creates a Forbearance Period, which is a period of ongoing obligation by the Swap Counterparty to support the City's efforts to receive payments of casino revenues from the General Receipts Subaccount. The underlying agreements (i.e. , the Swaps, Service Contracts, Contract Administration Agreement, and Collateral Agreement) are otherwise operable during this period, including the provisions in those agreements regarding insurance obligations of Swap Insurers such as Syncora (notwithstanding the release of collateral). (This is contrary to Amended Swaps (A&R) § 5(iv), 5(d) . No amendments, modifications, or waivers of the Swaps or the Collateral Agreement are effective unless Syncora consents in writing.)

Right to Direct Swap
Counterparties to
Terminate The City may direct the Swap Counterparties to exercise optional termination rights, which relieve the Service Corporations of their payment obligations. The Forbearance Agreement contains no provisions addressing or requiring Syncora's consent to any such termination. (This is contrary to Contract Administration Agreement (CAA) § 6.9.2(2). Syncora has the right to direct the actions of the Swap Counterparties.)

Section 3.5
Decreased
Termination
Amount If the City chooses to exercise its optional termination rights, the City pays between 75% and 82% of the mid-market value of the Swaps, with the value to be determined on the date of the exercise of the termination option. This payment is a direct payment to the Swap Counterparties. (This is contrary to the Swaps (ISDA MA) § 6(e). If the Swap is terminated early, the termination value is determined by reference to either market quotation by leading dealers in the market or the full value of the loss of the Swap.)
