  - (b) A certificate stating (1) that the debtor and the specified objecting parties are at an impasse their reasonable efforts to resolve objections, and (2) the legal and factual issues to be resolved in connection with the remaining objections to confirmation.

By the same deadline, the debtor's attorney shall also file this certificate and serve it on any creditors whose objections are identified therein.

3. If the debtor does not submit a proposed order confirming plan as provided in either paragraph 1 or paragraph 3(a), or does not file and serve the certificate as required in paragraph 3(b), then the Court will not consider confirmation of the plan at the confirmation hearing; instead, the Court will simply consider whether there is good cause for an adjournment of the confirmation hearing.
